Cherry Lips (Go Baby Go)

Garbage

She gave you everything she had But she was young and dumb She'd just turned twenty-one She didn't care to hang around So when the shit came down Why she was nowhere to be found This life can turn a good girl bad She was the sweetest thing That you had ever seen You're such a delicate boy In the hysterical realm Of an emotional landslide In physical terms With your cherry lips and golden curls You could make grown men gasp When you'd go walking past them In your hot pants and high heels Well, they could not believe That such a body was for real It seemed like rainbows would appear Whenever you came near The clouds would disappear Because you looked just like a girl Your baby blues would flash And suddenly a spell was cast You're such a delicate boy In the hysterical realm Of an emotional landslide In physical terms You hold a candle in your heart You shine the light on hidden parts You make the whole world wanna dance You bought yourself a second chance Go baby, go go We're right behind you Go baby, go go Yeah, we're looking at you Go baby, go go Aw, we're right behind you Go baby, go baby Yeah, we're right behind you Go baby, go baby

Aw, we're right behind you Go baby, go baby Yeah, we're looking at you Go baby, go baby Aw, we're right behind you Go baby, go baby Yeah, we're looking at you You hold a candle in your heart Go baby, go go You shine the light on hidden parts Go baby, go go You make the whole world wanna dance Go baby, go go You bought yourself a second chance Go baby, go baby, go Delicate boy Go baby, go baby, go In the hysterical realm Go baby, go baby, go Of an emotional landslide Go baby go baby go In physical terms Go baby, go go go Yeah, we're looking at you Go baby, go go Aw, we're right behind you
