

Has Ended

Thom Yorke

I woke up in a city
The soldiers had come home
The ego it had ended
His loud mouth was gone
The witches all were singing
And the water turned grey
And the mirrors and the phones
Caught flame, caught flame
Saying we won't make this mistake again
Then the idiot was alone
Was alone
And the water, it forgave us
And the fascists felt ashamed
At their dancing puppet king
Saying we won't make this mistake again
