

Only the Young

Brandon Flowers

Look back in silence; the cradle of your whole life.
There in the distance, loosing its greatest pride.
Nothing is easy, nothing is sacred. Why?
Where did the bow break? It happened before your time.
There were people there, lovely as you've ever been.
Tonight. Baby you can start again.
Laughing in the open air; have yourself another dream.
Tonight.
Baby we can start again.
Only the young can break away, break away.
Lost when the wind blow; on your own, ohh.
Only the young can break away, break away.
Lost when the wind blow; on your own, ohh...
Mother its cold here. Father thy will be done. Thunder and lightening crashing down.
They got me on the run, direct me to the sun.
Redemption keeps my covers clean tonight.
Baby we can start again.
Only the young can break away, break away. Lost when the wind blow; on your own, ohh...
Only the young can break away, break away. Lost when the wind blow; on your own, ohh...
And the sun will shine.
And the sun will shine
Are you looking for a sign?
Or are you confident?
Hahahahaha.
Hahahahaha.
Only the young can break away, break away.
Lost when the wind blow; on your own, ohh...
Only the young can break away, break away.
Lost when the wind blow; on your own, ohh...
Only the young can...
Lost when the wind blow...
Only the young can...
Hahahahaha.
Lost when the wind blow...

Lyrics provided by <http://counterlikes.com/>