Young Man Blues

Joe Bonamassa

Oh well a young man ain't got nothin' in the world these days I said a young man ain't got nothin' in the world these daysYou know in the old days When a young man was a strong man All the people they'd step back When a young man walked byBut you know nowadays It's the old man, He's got all the money And a young man ain't got nothin' in the world these daysI said nothingEverybody knows that a young man ain't got nothin'. Everybody! Everybody knows that a young man ain't got nothin' He got nothin' Nothin' Take it easy on the young man They ain't got nothin' in the world these days I said they ain't got nothin'! They got sweet fuck-all!
