

One More Time

Korn

How do you catch a falling star?
How do you fix a broken heart?
How can we go back to re-write this from the start?
Back when our world glowed from just a spark?
Stuck inside this atmosphere.
Watching my light just disappear.
And all the things I've forgotten while you were here.
Now I remember them all so clear. Just give me one more time.
I'll swim through the high tide.
I'll stand in the front lines.
I'll give it all just to see your face.
And tell you its alright.
To hold you for one more night.
Just give me one more time.
Mr I don't need her.
Now I think about her constantly though.
If they made a machine that could register
How my cold my heart is off the meter
Now that that time is gone, I remember her favorite song,
And the spot in the middle of her back
She would laugh when I put my fingers on
Until the end of everything, and I'm gone and buried.
You the only one that ever loved like this, and baby I hope you hear me.
You search and you gonna find, deep down you know your mine.
I'll fight to my very last breath, if that mean that I get just one more time. Just give me one more time.
I'll swim through the high tide.
I'll stand in the front lines.
I'll give it all just to see your face.
And tell you its alright.
To hold you for one more night.
Just give me one more time.
I'm still alive, I still feel you. So many words, I never told you.
I'm still alive, I still feel you. So many words, I never told you.
I'm still alive, I still feel you. So many words, I never told you.
I'm still alive, I still feel you. So many words, I never told you. Just give me one more time.
I'll swim through the high tide.
I'll stand in the front lines.
I'll give it all just to see your face.
And tell you its alright.
To hold you for one more night.
Just give me one more time. Just give me one more time.

I'll swim through the high tide.
I'll stand in the front lines.
I'll give it all just to see your face.
And tell you its alright.
To hold you for one more night.
Just give me one more time.
