

Between Stars

Underworld

I drive too fast
Under a full moon
Save the best to last
Under a full moon And pray you don't crash
Under a full moon
When the head's too far out of whack
Step back, step back Step back, step back
Step back, step back
Step back, step back
Step back, step back
And the hope of the world
Rides with one man
Everybody crying
On the telephone ringing We hold our breath
We spin around the world
You and me cling
To the outside of the earth
Under a full moon
Under a full moon I got you on my brain again, again
And I hear your voice
On a northbound bus
Chinatown to Chinatown And the hope of the world
Rides with one man
Everybody crying
On the telephone ringing
We hold our breath
We spin around the world
You and me cling
To the outside of the earth
Under a full moon Will you hold my camera?
Will you press release?
Will you capture me?
As the lights go down And the hope of the world
Rides with one man
Everybody crying
On the telephone ringing We hold our breath
We spin around the world
You and me cling
To the outside of the earth
Under a full moon Step back, step back
Step back, step back
Step back, step back

Step back, step back Don't wait for me, I'm always late
It's in my blood, in the stone
I feel the world go round
