

Young Man

Rayland Baxter

Wandering young man, where do you go?
Tell me who do you love tomorrow
You hide in a dungeon and call it a dream
Is that where you do your wandering? Candy blue river, tangerine sun
Tell me where do you go when the day is done?
She wants to love you and you want to run Yes, and you're out there just wanderin'
Yes, and you're out there wanderin' Twenty two letters sent to yourself
Eleven from heaven, eleven from hell
She builds the castle, you dig the well
Now your walls are all fallin' down
Yes, and you're out there wanderin' around
