You can clean around the wound But if you want it to heal It just takes timeAnd you can call up to the moon But if you want something to change You've gotta change your life And take your timeIt just takes time It just takes time It just takes time Hard work and your timeThe sun will leave the room Will leave you to the night And that's alright Because before the morning comes There's a certain calm And then there's light It just takes timeIt just takes time A little trust and your time You can change your life It just takes time A little trust and your timeAnd I can sit and talk Because I was just like you So arrogant and brave Impetuous and blueBut trust me as a friend And I'll do all that I can do And I'd do anything for you Because I want to see you through It just takes time Hard work and your time You can change your lifeIt just takes time A little trust your time A little trust and your time...
