

Tonight Looks Good on You

Jason Aldean

You ain't got a dress that I don't like
You ain't got a pair of jeans that don't fit you just right
There's not a minute in the day
That you don't knock me out, you don't blow me away But girl now that this sun's gone down
Woah oh oh
Lookin' at you right here and now
Baby, something 'bout that southern sky
Sittin' back behind that moon
It goes perfect with your eyes
Girl tonight looks good on you
Something 'bout the way you're smiling
Making them stars fall right on cue
I just gotta tell ya baby
Tonight looks good on you
I can taste the midnight on your lips
Makes me just wanna lean in for another kiss
Wind blowin' your hair around
Girl it makes me wanna lay ya down
You been beautiful a million times
But I've never seen ya look like this Something 'bout that southern sky
Sittin' back behind that moon
It goes perfect with your eyes
Girl tonight looks good on you
Something 'bout the way you're smiling
Making them stars fall right on cue
I just gotta tell ya baby
Tonight looks good on you It looks so good on your skin
I don't ever, no I never
I don't ever, ever want it to end
Baby
Something 'bout that southern sky
Sittin' back behind that moon
It goes perfect with your eyes
Girl tonight looks good on you
Something 'bout the way you're smiling
Making them stars fall right on cue
I just gotta tell ya baby
Tonight looks good on you Tonight looks good on you
I just gotta tell ya baby
You look good at my house,
Good in my car
You lookin' so good anywhere you are

Tonight looks good on you
Tonight looks good on you
I just gotta tell ya baby
Yeah
