

Lordly (feat. Alex Aiono) [Radio Edit]

Feder

And once we run the show everyone will know
That we will be the ones that hold the highest truth
And once we run the show everyone will know
That we will be the ones that hold the highest truth I'm from that game strong on my face
I tell 'em don't go, we love, we love, that's my place
There's nothing to do, I just do it
Nothing but love under the sun And once we run the show everyone will know
That we will be the ones that hold the highest truth
And once we run the show everyone will know
That we will be the ones that hold the highest truth There lies a kingdom in my heart
A reign of light that lights up the dark
There's nothing to do, I just do it
Nothing but love under the sun
And once we run the show everyone will know
That we will be the ones that hold the highest truth
And once we run the show everyone will know
That we will be the ones that hold the highest truth
