

Drown Me In Your Love

Jacquie Lee

You don't make it easy for me
If I let go, imagine where we'd be
If I spent less time trying to make up my mind

Then I would see you're exactly what I need Stop reading my mind,
you're searching for signs,
I'll meet you half way
It's taking me time to say the words that I find that are easy to say

Why don't you drown me in your love
When I fall down,
who will pick me back up

Who will save me from myself
When I see you there's no one else
Why don't you drown me in your love
Drown me, drown me in your love
Drown me, drown me in your love
Who else stands still and all with you
But is a calm to this storm

I never knew
The tired way when you're in bed
All alone in the deep end,
The current pulls eyes,
both deeper into the blue

Stop reading my mind,
you're searching for signs,
I'll meet you half way
It's taking me time
to say the words that I find
that are easy to say

Why don't you drown me in your love
When I fall down,
who will pick me back up

Who will save me from myself
When I see you there's no one else
Why don't you drown me in your love
Drown me, drown me in your love
Drown me, drown me in your love
Drown me, drown me in your love
Drown me, drown me in your love

Drown me, drown me in your love
Drown me, drown me in your love
