Yo, let me start off by first apologizing Girl, you think I take you for granted But um I'm here to take it backCan we pull back a minute and make believe that? I don't know you and you don't know me Darling, let's pretend This old school love is brand newCan we explore the places I've already been? Just tell me where and I'll kiss it again Darling, let's pretend This old school love is brand newI know I shouldn't have to ask But it seems that I've relaxed And I'm getting the feelings that It's time I take it back [Incomprehensible] night escapes In the car callin' out my name You being scared when your friend was late Then being cool when it finally came, those were the daysCan we pull back a minute and make believe that? I don't know you and you don't know me Darling, let's pretend This old school love is brand newCan we explore the places I've already been? Just tell me where and I'll kiss it again Darling, let's pretend This old school love is brand newWay back when hickies were the thing You wore bloomers, not that sexy G-string And gettin' blue balls was a daily thing But it was alright, with me To when that very first time went down How you moaned when I went down You were the one, I had no doubt We need to get that back right now 'cause those were the daysCan we pull back a minute and make believe that? I don't know you and you don't know me Darling, let's pretend This old school love is brand newCan we explore the places I've already been? Just tell me where and I'll kiss it again Darling, let's pretend This old school love is brand newWe're still here 'Cause we conquered every feeling The fire burns inside like yester year My baby since back in the dayWe knew it would be us Holding on to that first crush

Had to say today, is what it was So let's keep on sending, it's only beginningCan we pull back a minute and make believe that? I don't know you and you don't know me Darling, let's pretend This old school love is brand newCan we explore the places I've already been? Just tell me where and I'll kiss it again Darling, let's pretend This old school love is brand newCan we pull back a minute and make believe that? I don't know you and you don't know me Darling, let's pretend This old school love is brand newCan we explore the places I've already been? Just tell me where and I'll kiss it again Darling, let's pretend This old school love is brand newBack, like Cadillacs and hubcaps Back, like leavin' letters in your nap sack Back, like Jellies and pro keds Back to girl, when we first metBack, to when Mike had the glove on Back, to when our love was so strong Back, to the days I know you miss I'll give back, I promise thisCan we pull back a minute and make believe that? I don't know you and you don't know me Darling, let's pretend This old school love is brand newCan we explore the places I've already been? Just tell me where and I'll kiss it again Darling, let's pretend This old school love is brand newLet me explore the places I've already been? Tell me where and I'll kiss it again Darling, let's pretend again, let's pretend Baby, I wanna just love you, I wanna love you I wanna love you, [Incomprehensible] you, [Incomprehensible] you That's all I wanna do, baby All I wanna do, love
