

Mercy

Jewel

Simplicity, does not come easy
When you're dreaming of being someone else
And grace you see is fleeting
When you're bleeding your inner self Have Mercy on me please
Have Mercy, I'm on my knees
I'm being broken again and again
I'll keep being broken until I remain
Open When you're locked away,
Fighting shadows, constant battles
Trying to feel safe
When your own armor starts killing you,
Cause it's causing you to sink beneath its weight
Call for mercy, won't you please
Call for mercy, get on your knees
You're being broken, again and again
You'll keep being broken, until you remain
Open So feel the pain, give into it
Cry till you crack, that's how the light gets in Set your weapons on the ground
Until you're naked and trembling now
And when you think you can't stand any more Give mercy to someone in need
Give mercy, don't you see
Life will break our hearts, again and again
We'll keep being broken until we remain
Open
Can't you see
I have broken wide open
Let yourself be broken wide open
I have broken open

Song Discussions is protected by U.S. Patent 9401941. Other patents pending.

Lyrics provided by <http://counterlikes.com/>