

For the Kids (feat. Susanne Sundfør)

M83

Where are you now?
Who do you go to?
For a shoulder to cry on
I hope that some day
You might turn around
And come back home
Where are you now?
When will I see your face again?
No matter how far apart we become
You know that I'll still hear your song
This is the day, this is our day mom
If we believe it, it will happen
I am everywhere, you remember?
I am in the water on the mirror
The strange flower you saw in the forest
And the morning dust tickling your neck
I am the wind mommy
And the wind is never sad
He's brave and strong, and furious at times
Soon I'll be strong enough to make you fly away
And nothing could ever stop us then
I don't know when I'll see you again
But I know that my love will last for eternity
I'll wait 'til the stars go dark for you
To come back to me
