

Sad Song

Parson James

Now this might sound like a sad song
But I just smile since you moved on
Cause I was lost in pain
And frankly you're insane
And you were nooo good for me
And I was nooo good for you Here I go drunk by myself again
Raise another glass to what coulda' been
Running it back and thinking
(oh my goodness)
Reaching for the ceiling, hitting low
All this push and pull should be criminal
Playing it back and thinking
(oh my goodness)
I'm no good at lying and kissing
I'm so sick of,
So sick of falling in love
I'm so tired of swinging and missing
I'm no good at,
No good at falling in love Now this might sound like a sad song
But I just smile since you moved on
Cause I was lost in pain
And frankly you're insane
And you were nooo good for me
And I was nooo good for you Now this might sound like a sad song
But I just smile since you moved on
Cause I was lost in pain
And frankly you're insane
And you were nooo good for me
And I was nooo good for you
You really got the worst and the best of me
This bottle been my church and my therapy
Now I'm all alone in thinking
(oh my goodness) I'm so tired of (so tired) lying and kissing
I'm so sick of,
So sick of falling in love
I'm so tired of (so tired) swinging and missing
I'm no good at
No good at falling in love Now this might sound like a sad song
But I just smile since you moved on
Cause I was lost in pain
And frankly you're insane
And you were nooo good for me

And I was nooo good for you(no)I'm so sick of(so sick) lying and kissing
Used to be blind, the frame in the fire
How did you get in my way?
And I'm so tired of swinging and missing
Used to be all, but no no no no
There'll be no crying todayNow this might sound like a sad song
But I just smile since you moved on
Cause I was lost in pain
And frankly you're insane
And you were nooo good for me
And I was nooo good for you
