

Things You Can Do

Deltron 3030

Things you can do, some can't be done
Things you can do, some can't be done
Things you can do, some can't be done

Things you can do, some can't be done Things you can do, some can't be done
Things you can do, some can't be done
Things you can do, some can't be done

Things you can do 3030, way past the millennium, check it out
Yo, Deltron thunder force, ain't no other source of sunlight
Two ton mic, leave you tongue-tied
Runnin' amuck with technology with no apology
Shoutin' out to my colony with third eye physiology
Millennium past apocalypse is all I spit
Make you swallow it, your weak style, I'll abolish it
With nuclear rockets, they glued to your optics with sci-fi
Unsettlin', man and metal blends
Underground chillin' with the Mole Man and his whole fam
Inhibit bacterial growth, material wrote
Impenetrable, incontestable, indigestible intelligence
Never let a computer tell me shit
It's rapid innovation, penetratin' artificial life forms who bite songs
I'm a buy a vest, lie is next, then I'll flip the bio-techs
Right into the wireless, your third eye is hit with psoriasis
The mightiest, Deltron Zero
Traverse and purge the travesties that tempt your earholds
The area of distribution lifts the clueless
My flow is like liquid oxygen
Rip it often with specific impulse, increasin' thrust
Grease the cuts, unleash a cluster of thoughts I muster
I talk to touch ya and rupture commercial communications
Convert solar energy into imagery in the mind's eye
Blindside the contagious with radioactive isotopes to decay them
Atomic mass they small as fragments, I magnetize the avid lies
My radiation shields reflects, rejects Decepticons
Who take the truth and stretch it long, while I bless a song
Next level incredible, metal melding, flexibility
And my engine is never failing
Things you can do, some can't be done
Things you can do, some can't be done
Things you can do, some can't be done

Things you can do, some can't be done Things you can do, some can't be done
Things you can do, some can't be done
Things you can do, some can't be done

Things you can do
 All your rhyme histories combined couldn't violate
 The Prime Optimus operative
 Use my hydrometer to see how warm you are
 Watch me form a star, hydrogen turned to helium when I shine
 Ridin' 'em, revealin' 'em, leadin' 'em, to the vacuum
 Interact with tunes in my digital citadel
 Critical pivotal with the mental shit on you
 Spit infinity, hidden energies too dope for our planet
 Star spannin', slammin' hymns with mechanical limbs
 Scanning your lens with cosmic rays
 You'll all get played, your brain's inferior
 I hit the lateral and posterior, my science is eerier
 Ionic bonding for your moronic pondering, meet the armorines
 My micro machines, might throw your team, into paralysis
 They not talented, just a malady, worry 'bout a salary, creative casualty
 Couldn't defrag my power density intensity
 Nonequivalence, nine hundred Newtons
 Crush you like croutons, you plus Houston
 Hiero's like dipoles inside a silo, turbulence ten-fold, never simple
 Defies accepted methods development most unique
 Paralyze central nervous when you close to me
 Interstellar void fills with color, appears to bubble
 And split into four like amoeba
 Inhabitin' planets with grandiose boast and coast like Silver Surfer
 Feel the purpose, high velocity, verbal atrocities
 Fire resistance, better hire assistants
 My pistons glisten ultra, high performance
 Inside your private quarters where I fry your components
 Things you can do, some can't be done
 Things you can do, some can't be done
 Things you can do, some can't be done
 Things you can do, some can't be done
 Things you can do, some can't be done
 Things you can do, some can't be done
 Things you can do
