I Thought She Knew

*NSYNC

She was my once in a lifetime Happy ending come true Oh I guess I should have told her I thought she knewShe said I took her for granted That's the last thing I would do Whoa I'll never understand it I thought she knew I thought she knewI thought she knew My world revolved around her My love light burned for her alone But she couldn't see the flame Only myself to blame I should have known I should have known A heart full of words left unspoken Now that we're through I'd sell my soul to have this silence broken Oh I thought she knew I thought she knewI thought she knew My world revolved around her My love light burned for her alone But she couldn't see the flame Only myself to blame I should have known I should have known She was my once in a lifetime Happy ending come true Whoa I guess I should have told her But I thought she knew I thought she knewOoooooo

Yeah 0000000 Song Discussions is protected by U.S. Patent 9401941. Other patents pending.

Oh I thought that she knew

Lyrics provided by http://counterlikes.com/