

Sore Eyes

Calum Scott

There I was
And here I go
Some say take it Some say don't
But I wanna
Like a fish outta water
But learning to fly
And here I am
You told me so
To spread my wings
Don't give up hope
In the darkness
When I'm in the darkness
And you let me shine No matter how long it takes I'll see your face, again, one day
When I'm losing light
And I need your sun to rise
(Oh, oh, oh, oh, oh, oh)
When my love is blind
And I need some kind of sign
You're a sight for my sore eyes
You're a sight for my sore eyes Give or take
Win or lose
You push me away
But you're pulling me through
In the fire
Like ice in the fire
But we're burning bright
Oh, we found our place
We grew and grew
The skies are grey
But you're still in bloom
In the darkness
Even the darkness
Won't dampen your shine
I'm feeling so far away
But I'll see your face, again one day, yeah When I'm losing light
And I need your sun to rise
(Oh, oh, oh, oh, oh, oh)
When my love is blind
And I need some kind of sign
You're a sight for my sore eyes
(Oh, oh, oh, oh, oh, oh)

You're a sight for my sore eyes
(Oh, oh, oh, oh, oh, oh)
You're a sight for my sore eyes I'm losing light
I need your sun to rise
When my love is blind
And I need some kind of sign
You're a sight for my sore eyes
(Oh, oh, oh, oh, oh, oh)
You're a sight for my sore eyes
(Oh, oh, oh, oh, oh, oh)
You're a sight for my sore eyes
Song Discussions is protected by U.S. Patent 9401941. Other patents pending.

Lyrics provided by <http://counterlikes.com/>