

Your Girl

Grace Potter

I can make you mine, I'm so tempted to touch you.
I'm dying to cross the line, but I like your girl too much.
Oh I never wanted to meet her, but you let me,
so you can't tempt me no more.
And you can't have it both ways baby, so stop making me burn.
I wish I never met your girl,
I wish I never met girl, 'cause I really like her.
I wish I never met your girl,
I wish I never met your girl,
and I don't wanna hurt her.
I wish I never met your girl, your girl, your girl, your girl.
When she's not by your side you let our bodies touch.
And I'm trying to put out the fire, 'cause I like your girl too much.
When she was a stranger it was so easy livin' in my dream, but now,
I can't shoot down an angel just because I want to be your midnight queen.
No, no, I wish I never met your girl,
I wish I never met your girl, 'cause I really like her.
I wish I never met your girl,
I wish I never met your girl,
and I don't wanna hurt her.
I said I wish I never met your girl, your girl, your girl, your girl.
Close my eyes every night, try to dream about you but I only see her face.
Though my heart wants you now I can live without you now, but talk about you never ever.
Have to say
I wish I never met your girl,
I wish I never met your girl, 'cause I really like her.
And I wish I never met your girl,
wish I never met your girl,
but I do, and I don't wanna hurt her.
Wish I never met your girl, your girl, your girl, your girl.
I wish I never met your girl, your girl, your girl, your girl.
