

You Got 'Em All

Trent Harmon

Those west coast lights she talked about in your sleep
Things you always thought I could be
The skies will spread your wings cuz this town is too small
Stars and moon

Well I hope you got 'em all
Cuz I'm still waitin on life to begin again
Still waitin on love to give a second chance
To stop me and steal my breath the way you did
I'm still looking for your jeep in every parking lot
Still taste your lips with every whiskey shot
I hope you found whatever I ain't found yet
Cuz I feel like all my better days are gone
And I think you got 'em all

Those dreams you prayed about but scared to have
The smiles and the laughs, the greener the grass
But Girl I hope you got 'em all
Cuz I'm still waitin on life to begin again
Still waitin on love to give a second chance
To stop me and steal my breath the way you did
And I'm still looking for your jeep in every parking lot
Still taste your lips with every whiskey shot
And I hope you found whatever I ain't found yet
Cuz I feel like all my better days are gone
And I think you got 'em all

Ohhhohhh...

And yeah, those shells we found on the beach of South Carolina
Does the smell of a cottonwood tree ever remind you?
Of those memories, of you and me, that i still see

I hope you got 'em all
Girl, I'm still waitin on life to begin again
Still waitin on love to give a second chance
To stop me and steal my breath the way you did
I'm still looking for your jeep in every parking lot
Still taste your lips with every whiskey shot
I hope you found whatever I ain't found yet
Cuz I feel like all my better days are gone
Yes i feel like all my better days are gone
And I think you got 'em all

Mhmmmm.

Girl I think you 'em all
