

Tunnel Vision

Upchurch

I went to sleep broke as fuck dreaming of a better life
With a barely running truck, with a flashing fuel light Waking up to dead-end jobs that I didn't even like Tunnel vision to the bullshit that gets thrown at me alive, yeah
Tunnel vision, tunnel vision
Tunnel vision, tunnel vision Tunnel vision, I'm a rap exhibit for a couple million on social media
They took me in as a nobody when I was painting houses for them rich people Pulling up to cribs with my ragged clothes, big chandeliers and a Range Rover Putting down plaster on my hands and knees on some stubby motherfucker's marble floor Busting asses 7 days a week not knowing what I wanted with my own life
And I smoked most of my summer money trying to venture off in a different path Sitting in the woods just brainstorming till I finally heard the damn thunder clash And I left the party scene ASAP, started rocking tall and never turned back
I went to sleep broke as fuck dreaming of a better life
With a barely running truck, with a flashing fuel light
Waking up to dead-end jobs that I didn't even like
Tunnel vision to the bullshit that gets thrown at me alive, yeah
Tunnel vision, tunnel vision
Tunnel vision, tunnel vision Yeah I kept walking till I couldn't see shit except the vision that I wanted so badly of Spent plenty days on them logging trails just mother nature and a sky above Shed plenty tears on them honey suckles, the south knows all my problems son Fell asleep in Lalaland with them critters guided by the lighting bugs Just listen to the bullfrogs sing soprano in the creek course underneath the moon Farmhouse over yonder in the distance flickers 'cause the wind has got an attitude I guess I drifted in the right direction and I went away, I structured all up on my own Now I'm sitting in the same damn hollow sea of crap gold
I went to sleep broke as fuck dreaming of a better life
With a barely running truck, with a flashing fuel light
Waking up to dead-end jobs that I didn't even like
Tunnel vision to the bullshit that gets thrown at me alive, yeah

Tunnel vision, tunnel vision
Tunnel vision, tunnel vision
