

No Future, No Hope

Defiance

every day that goes by it all seems the same people work and people slave and piss their lives away people taking and never getting it's all the same old shit while everything around us is crumbling bit by bit you fuck right off if you think that i 'll play a part in this system that was doomed right from the start a system built on slavery, domination, and degradation production and consumption and over all corruption fuck right off if you think you have a say in this system that takes your life away you can rock the boat or rock the vote the choice is up to you but i won't put faith in those who are fucking me and you i don't give a shit if the system falls to pieces if it all stops if it all ceases it's not getting any better and it couldn't get much worse the only hope and dream i have is to watch it all destroyed

[Chorus:]

there ain't no future and there ain't no hope for humankind or change within the system
there ain't no future and there ain't no hope in a fucked up system that takes your life away there ain't no future and there ain't no hope rules and regulations getting in our way there ain't no future and there ain't no hope
