This Orient

Foals

And now it's just gone after dark And we move to the other part of it Secret part of your restless heart To glide past every city light Like a satellite careering through the sky This color, this summer nightIt's your heart, it's your heart That gives me this western feeling It's your heart, it's your heart That gives me this western feeling Do you know, you give me You give me this western feeling? Now look back see how far you've come Will you unravel in the sun? Come undone, find your place Held up high said from string as well No return to that restless place You've reached it, you've found your graceIt's your heart, it's your heart That gives me this western feeling It's your heart, it's your heart That gives me this western feeling Oh, do you know, you give me You give me this western feeling?It's your heart, it's your heart That gives you this western feeling It's your heart, that gives you That gives you this western feeling It's your heart that gives you That gives you this western feeling It's your heart, it's your heart That gives you this western feelingOh, how do you know, what gives me What gives me this western feeling? Oh, how do you know, what gives me What gives me this western feeling?
