

Lullaby

Priscilla Ahn

Here's a Lullaby for anyone who wants to fly from there home town where people drown and where the town leaves die This old library has thirty books and one dictionary but that's okay no one reads anyway we all watch tv So heres your lullaby no boy don't cry just rest your head and go to bed your time will come to fly away never a day just dream your life away sleep...
All the dogs will die they just cant seem to stay alive cause in this town our cop shoots him down and we just let him go inside Please God please what happened to our dreams were losing hope so we invest in dope to feel our vacant feelings So heres your lullaby no girl don't cry just rest your head and go to bed your time will come to fly away never a day just dream your life away sleep.
