

Ocean Floor for Everything

How to Dress Well

And I know you were always ready for me baby
Way before we met I got there just to say hey ey eyy
And you were hoping for the days when you could say safely I have my place, I have my home,
I have my future.

But we never really plan for the worst of things do we?
And then something like this happens for the sake of me? who? me? who? we?

We've got feeling, got strength,
and got the right thing for each other.
There's an ocean floor for everything for me,
the sun, and he, gone.
(Hey)
