

A Love Song

Ladyhawke

It all began
Innocent as love can be
In every word
You gave it all to me
Cause this is what a love song sounds like
Another life
Two beating hearts are mine
The party's over
But you're still over the line
Cause this is what a love song sounds like
This could be my life, but it's only words
To make me feel right when the meaning's blurred
You've opened my eyes to the oldest tale of time
This is what a love song sounds like
This could be my life, but it's only words
To make me feel right when the meaning's blurred
You've opened my eyes to the oldest tale of time
This is what a love song, love song sounds like I'm falling down
Too much to drink again
You pull me up
And tell me how it could end
This is what a love song sounds like
I gave it up
I don't wanna hurt anymore
It wasn't me
Why can't you just open the door?
This is what a love song sounds like
This could be my life, but it's only words
To make me feel right when the meaning's blurred
You've opened my eyes to the oldest tale of time
This is what a love song sounds like
This could be my life, but it's only words
To make me feel right when the meaning's blurred
You've opened my eyes to the oldest tale of time
This is what a love song, love song sounds like Life is always meant to replay
No heart break no more today This could be my life, but it's only words
To make me feel right when the meaning's blurred
You've opened my eyes to the oldest tale of time
This is what a love song sounds like
This could be my life, but it's only words
To make me feel right when the meaning's blurred
You've opened my eyes to the oldest tale of time

This is what a love song, love song sounds like
This is what a love song sounds like
Song Discussions is protected by U.S. Patent 9401941. Other patents pending.

Lyrics provided by <http://counterlikes.com/>