War of Change

Thousand Foot Krutch

It's a truth that in love and war World's collide and hearts get broken I want to live like I know I'm dying

Take up my cross, don't be afraidIs it true what they say, that words are weapons?

And if it is, then everybody best stop steppin'

Cause I got ten in my pocket that'll bend ya locket

I'm tired of all these rockers sayin' come with me

Wait, it's just about to break, its more than I can take

Everything's about to change

I feel it in my veins, its not going away

Everything's about to change. It creeps in like a thief in the night

Without a sign, without a warning

But we are ready and prepared to fight

Raise up your swords, don't be afraid

Is it true what they say, that words are weapons?

And if it is, then everybody best stop steppin'

Cause I got ten in my pocket that'll bend ya locket

I'm tired of all these rockers sayin' come with me

Wait, it's just about to break, its more than I can take

Everything's about to change

I feel it in my veins, its not going away

Everything's about to change. This is a warning, like it or not

I break down, like a record spinning

Gotta get up

So back off

This is a warning, like it or not

I'm tired of listenin', I'm warning you, don't try to get upThere's a war going on inside of me tonight, don't be afraidThere's a war going on inside of me tonight, don't be afraid

Wait, it's just about to break, its more than I can take

Everything's about to change

I feel it in my veins, its not going away

Everything's about to change

It's just about to break, its more than I can take

Everything's about to change

I feel it in my veins, its not going away

Everything's about to change

Song Discussions is protected by U.S. Patent 9401941. Other patents pending.

Lyrics provided by http://counterlikes.com/