Chemistry of a Car Crash

Shiny Toy Guns

You're waking up A part of me I've never known And I've never felt so invincible What took you so far away? You're lost for tonight again That's what you wanted Your arms to your side again AgainJust take away the words I say 'Cause I know that you don't feel the same Just go and say what's in your head And I won't try to stop you You hold the rights I'll never own And I've never felt so alien Don't tear us apart againWhat is the use of it We? re okay, it's nothing It's all chemistry of a car crashJust take away the words I say 'Cause I know that you don't feel the same Just go and say what's in your head And I won't try so you'll stayThis time I won't try and I won? t change This time I won't try to stop you It's all chemistry of a car crash Just take away the words I say 'Cause I know that you don't feel the same Just go and say what's in your head And I won't try so you'll stayThis time I won't try and I won? t change This time I won't try to stop you Song Discussions is protected by U.S. Patent 9401941.
