

My Somebody

Trent Harmon

You, burning waffles in the kitchen
Laughing when the smoke alarm goes off
You, overdressed in the winter
Smiling underneath the turquoise Sky
Do you remember what you told me
Last summer sitting in my car You said everybody needs somebody
Baby I don't need nobody
Got the girl who's looking at me looking at her
Like some kind of love drunk fool
Everybody needs somebody
And my somebody is you
And like you ain't afraid of nothing
But I still kept you writing your name
You, always creeping up to crazy
But never going off the rails
And do you realize that you made it
Near impossible for anybody else 'Cause everybody needs somebody
Baby I don't need nobody
Got the girl who's looking at me looking at her
Like some kind of love drunk fool
Everybody needs somebody
And my somebody is you No I never let you go
So baby all I wanna know
Am I the same thing to you
Am I your somebody too
'Cause everybody needs somebody
Baby I don't need nobody
Got the girl who's looking at me looking at her
Like some kind of love drunk fool
Everybody needs somebody
And my somebody is you
My somebody is you
