

Pretty Girl's Lie

Trey Songz

She grew up without a father
Never knew how to love a man
She's addicted to breaking hearts and moving on
So I never really stood a chance
And a sparkle lid your eyes
They shine so flawless I'm amazed
Blinded by an angel's face
It's the sweetest poison in one kiss
And now you gotta ventill be your face
But even everything you lips say Pretty girls lie
Lipstick in her smile
Makes you want to believe
But pretty girls lie
Pain so deep inside
She can't even see
Pretty girls lie
Pretty girls lie
Got you walking through a maze, yeah
Eyes closed tryin' to find your way
Got your mom's respond
Hoping she gon' make a sound
But she don't wanna be found
'Cause she'll tell you come anyway
And you know the difference
From a real lot of fake
Devil in the trust, but an angel in the face
Never ever yours but it's only for the day
Is it real when you calling my name Pretty girls lie
Lipstick in her smile
Makes you want to believe
But pretty girls lie
Pain so deep inside
She can't even see
Pretty girls lie
Wanted to get a benefit out about
The best in how I wanna help you bring you home
I know something's missing inside
If you let me I can so improve
Girl it ain't no running from the truth
She says I'll be there
Girl don't just tell me what I wanna hear Pretty girls lie
Lipstick in her smile

Makes you want to believe
But pretty girls lie
Pain so deep inside
Pretty girls lie Such a pretty face and
She did find a way
Such a beautiful girl
Lost in the world
Can't trust what she says
After so many break-ups and make-ups in life
Could've been making love and end up in a fight
Ooh, tell me why
Pretty girls lie
