

How We Love

Gretchen Parlato

whisper of a breeze upon a summer day and I cannot say where all the time goes followed by the shadows of our yesterdays but they've gone away and leave us all to find out who we are inside our minds and you decide it's time to change songs that create such a beautiful melody sounds up in the sky that realize that you and I will go on and on and on and on and on Oh how you love me oh how we love
oh how you love me
oh how we love
oh how you love me
oh how we love
oh how
we love
