

Casey

Jupiter Sunrise

Casey caught my sleeve
When it was hard for me to be alone
The hem of my sweater Was just a couple of threads
And when it started to unravel You twirled it in your hands
Casey hold my hand again
When I can't turn away
I'm longing for innocence But now we know our age
Down at the mummies' play
You brought your camera
You turned to me
And then I saw my reflection
I saw myself just as I was
When I lived life a little more each day
Doing everything I was doing more fearlessly
Casey hold my hand again
When I can't turn away
I'm longing for innocence
But now we know our age
Now we know...
Casey hold my hand again
When I can't turn away
I'm longing for innocence
But now we know our age
Casey hold my hand again
When I can't turn away
I'm longing for innocence
But you're too young for me
