

I'll Sue You

Paul Banks

There's always a way, there's always a pre time,
There's always a play, there's always a new guy.
It's a whole amount of lake, I want to be clear,
There's always a way and I don't want to be here. I'll sue you, I'll sue you,
I'm suing you, yes, I'll do this. There's always a strain, there's always a thin eye,
There's always a play, I want a free ride.
It's a home out of air, I want to be clear,
Nothing you will take with you, what will you leave here?
I'll sue you, I'll sue you.
I'll impure you to, what can I say?
You have everything that I want you for you raised the stakes
That makes these feelings grow stronger.
So what can I say? You were always my favorite.
You paved the way, I don't want to let you go. I have proved myself and I've blown away,
It's alright,
I don't need this, anyway. And then we'll fly away,
And then we'll fly away,
And then we'll fly away,
And then we'll fly. I'll sue you, I'll sue you,
I'm suing you, you put so much pain on me.
I'll take a ride in old sheets, I've looked inside, it's all peace
So I took you, girl, to see high alive. You raised the stakes and that makes these feelings grow stronger,
So what else can I say? You have everything that I'm wanting
You paved the way and I don't want to let you go.
