Baby

Warpaint

Don't you call anybody else baby 'Cause I'm your baby still It took a long time to make it But I've never changed my mind I've never tried to fake it Never drew the lineDon't you call anybody else baby 'Cause I'm your baby still It took a long time to make it But I've never changed my mindYou speak your fears Thinking in circles And checking what mirrors Don't see You live your life like a page From the book of my fantasy How I love youYou speak your fears Thinking in circles And checking what mirrors Don't see You live your life like a page From the book of my fantasyYou speak your fears Thinking in circles And checking what mirrors Don't see You live your life like a page From the book of my fantasy You speak your fears Thinking in circles And checking what mirrors Don't see You live your life like a page From the book of my fantasy Don't you call anybody else baby
