

Indigo Heart

Tyler and the Tribe

Well hey there baby
I got a lot time on my hands
I wanna feel love
Like I know that only you canThe feelin' of your barefeet
On the side of my leg
Well it messes with my head
You know I love the moonlight
As it graces your skin
I love it when you touch me
In the palm of my handThere's a way that you scream out,
Your happiness
Well it messes with my head,
Oh it messes with my head
You're what I'm desperate for
My unlocked, confidential door
You break me down from the start,
You're my Indigo HeartIt's been a long, long time
Since I've seen you're pretty face
And it's a, a bittersweet shame
That we never put out that flameAnd it brings me down, down, down, down
Again and again
And it messes with my heart
Oh it messes with my heartYou're what I'm desperate for
My unlocked, confidential door
You break me down from the start,
You're my Indigo Heart
You're the rose of my garden
The stars of my sky
You sink your teeth right into me
Like a thorn in my sideYou're what I'm desperate for
My unlocked, confidential door
You break me down from the startYou're what I'm desperate for
My unlocked, confidential door
You break me down from the start,You break me down from the start,
You're my Indigo Heart
