

Promise the Stars

We the Kings

Let's take off and fly
And race through the sky
And like the hundreds of airplanes
We're floating way up high We'll never look down
We'll build our own town
And like the thousands of clouds
We will never touch the ground But would you risk the broken bones
Just to call this place home?
This could be home
Well, maybe I'm down low
Maybe I'm up high
Maybe I'm losing my own mind
You know that there are no other two hearts
Closer than ours
Maybe you'll follow
Maybe you'll stay
I'm praying you won't give yourself away
You know that you are the only one
I promise the stars
You are With your hands in mine
We'll soar through the night
And like the dozens of space ships
We'll dance with satellites
We'll keep our eyes closed
And we won't let go
And with the millions of stars
We will never be alone But would you risk the broken bones
Just to call this place home?
This could be home Well, maybe I'm down low
Maybe I'm up high
Maybe I'm losing my own mind
You know that there are no other two hearts
Closer than ours
Maybe you'll follow
Maybe you'll stay
I'm praying you won't give yourself away
You know that you are the only one
I promise the stars
You are And I, I
Want you, my only lover
And I, I
Want you, my only lover Well, maybe I'm down low

Maybe I'm up high
Maybe I'm losing my own mind
You know that there are no other two hearts
Closer than ours
Maybe you'll follow
Maybe you'll stay
You know that you are the only one
I promise the stars
