Fallen

Bret Michaels

Wasted Days and Wasted nights,

I feel lonely.

I walk these streets and wonder why

I ever listened to them say

"You are not the one for me"

But they were wrong

They don't see the things I seeWhen everyone turns to go

I won't leave you

When everything new gets old

I won't listen

When everyone says

I'll be better alone

I say this heart has a mind of it's own

mmmm mmmm mmmm

When I see you across the room

Time stands still

Everytime I undress you

My heart starts to fall

In my arms, lay with me, a little while

Let the world just fade away - You and Me. When everyone turns to go

I won't leave you

When everything new gets old

I won't listen

When everyone says

I'll be better alone

I say this heart has a mind of it's ownLet the world come crashing down - You can smile,

cos you know that I won't let you down

Let me be the only sound, You can hear

Fall in my arms and lay with me - a little while

Let the world just fade away - You and MeWhen everyone turns to go

I won't leave you

When everything new gets old

I won't listen

When everyone says

I'll be better alone

I say this heart has a mind of it's ownWhen everyone turns to go

I won't leave you

When everything new gets old

I won't listen

When everyone says

I'll be better alone

I say this heart has a mind of it's own
