Shine

Ricky Martin

We can talk, you can make your demands
We can cry cast the tears in our heads
We can laugh and dance

Under this steady moonAnd when the morning comes I'll still be holding youShine brighter than a rain of falling stars
Time stops to let our hearts be synchronizedThis endless night is no goodbye

This moment will last forever
This moment will last foreverI know you would catch me

Should I fall from grace
If I heard you drowning in the dark
I'd dive into the waves

We can make a vow and seal it with a kiss

The moments that we shared

Will matter more than those we missedShine brighter than a rain of falling stars. Time stops to let our hearts be synchronizedThis endless night is no goodbye.

This moment will last forever

This moment will last foreverIn another place, in another time

In another space, in another life

In another world you could still be mine

Well shine, well shineShine, brighter than a rain of fallen stars Time stops to let our hearts be synchronizedThis endless night is no goodbyeShine brighter than a rain of falling stars

Time stops to let our hearts be synchronized

This endless night is no goodbye

This moment will last forever
