

Stranger In a Strange Land

Barbra Streisand

You May be someone elses sweetheart
Fighting someone elses war
And if you suffer for the millions
Then its what your fighting forSomeone believes in only light of day
Someone strong enough to show the way Someone everyone believes in Someone who., Will stand by youAnd that will be your heart in mine
My love is on the line
I know its how i'm gona stay
For a Stranger in a strange land far awayAnd just to see your spirit shine
I feel your hand in mine
I write a letter every single day
to a stranger in a strange land far away
May we share the most tomorrows
I will hear you when you cry
Should we let it come between us
Never knowing how we live or die
I will walk you through the pouring rain
I will help you learn to live and love again
If i'm heald before you go to heaven
I send you home againAnd that will be your heart in mine
My love is on the line
I know its how i'm gona stay
To a stranger in a strange land far awayAnd somewhere in the lonley night your flame is burning bright
I know its how i'm gona stay
For a stranger in a strange land far away
And just to see your spirit shine
I feel your hand in mine
I write a letter every single day
to a stranger in a strange land far away
Ooooh Oooh ooh ooh
Far away
