

Heavy Is the Head (feat. Chris Cornell)

Zac Brown Band

Heavy is the head that wears the crown
Heavy is the head that wears the crown
Black dog
Drinks from the water
Trying to cool his tongue
Like the king
Finds no peace
His work is never done
Night falls
Smoke on the water
Darkness closes in
Cold white hand, in the deep
Will drown you for your sins
It's a lifelong expedition
Second-guessing your decisions
Trying to find out what's been missing
Pages keep on filling
Crying out
Ooh go and wake the king
Call to arms
For those who kiss the ring
Stand your ground
The walls are coming down
It's do or die
Do or die
Heavy is the head that wears the crown
Heavy is the head that wears the crown
Mad man
Blood on the altar
The Queen will have his head
His ghosts will shake those rattling chains
Long after he's dead
No soul knows his trouble
High upon his throne
Loved by few and judged by many
He bares that weight alone
It's a lifelong expedition
Second-guessing your decisions
Trying to find out what's been missing
And the pages keep on filling
Crying out
Ooh go and wake the king
Call to arms
For those who kiss the ring
Stand your ground
Yeah the walls are coming down
It's do or die

Do or die Heavy is the head that wears the crown
Heavy is the head that wears the crown
Song Discussions is protected by U.S. Patent 9401941. Other patents pending.

Lyrics provided by <http://counterlikes.com/>