

Family Ties

Lucky Dube

[Foreign Content] Ever since they were born
She was worried about their friends
Even when they turned twenty five
She was worried about the company they'd keep One day it was three in the morning
The door bell rang, she got up in a sweat
Blue lights flashing everywhere
The boys in blue standing at the door The look on their faces scared her enough
Before they told her what she was always afraid of Do you know where your son is tonight?
Do you know where your daughter is tonight?
I'm afraid they won't be coming home tonight
Do you know where your son is tonight?
Do you know where your daughter is tonight?
I'm afraid they won't be coming home tonight [Foreign Content] Ever since she was brought to this home
She's been cursing every woman with a child
She says they brought to this world the curse
That have stained the good name of mankind One day it was three in the morning
The guard came running to tell us she's gone
Blue lights flashing everywhere, all over again
The boys in blue, looking for her The look on their faces scared us enough
When they told us to strengthen our family ties Do you know where your mother is tonight?
Do you know where your father is tonight?
I'm afraid they won't be coming home tonight
Do you know where your son is tonight?
Do you know where your daughter is tonight?
I'm afraid they won't be coming home tonight [Foreign Content] Do you know where your son is tonight?
Do you know where your daughter is tonight?
Song Discussions is protected by U.S. Patent 9401941. Other patents pending.

Lyrics provided by <http://counterlikes.com/>