

Why Am I Sad Today

Fool's Garden

(Hinkel / Freudenthaler)The waitress is cleaning the bar
It's two in the morning
She offers some coffee to me
Turns the radio on
The caster is selling his voice to the night
The coffee gets cold in a whileThe old man beside me is gone
He showed me a blueprint
Of a house he would build
With the money he never could save
His father was buried down by the sea
Once he was younger than me
Why am I sad today
Why am I on the way
Down to the border
Not over the lineWhy am I sad today
Why am I on the way
Down to the limit of time
I'm sleepless tonightTake me away from the gloom
I'm cold from the inside
The waitress has turned off the lights
There's nothing to fear
She's put on her coat and once in a while
The lines on her face disappearWhy am I sad today...
Oceans awake and walls break down when you are there
You take my hand and you just lead me right out of hereWhy am I sad Today...
Song Discussions is protected by U.S. Patent 9401941. Other patents pending.

Lyrics provided by <http://counterlikes.com/>