Why Am I Sad Today

Fool's Garden

(Hinkel / Freudenthaler)The waitress is cleaning the bar It's two in the morning She offers some coffee to me

Turns the radio on

The caster is selling his voice to the night The coffee gets cold in a while The old man beside me is gone

He showed me a blueprint

Of a house he would build

With the money he never could save

His father was buried down by the sea

Once he was younger than me

Why am I sad today

Why am I on the way

Down to the border

Not over the lineWhy am I sad today

Why am I on the way

Down to the limit of time

I'm sleepless tonightTake me away from the gloom

I'm cold from the inside

The waitress has turned off the lights

There's nothing to fear

She's put on her coat and once in a while

The lines on her face disappearWhy am I sad today...

Oceans awake and walls break down

when you are there

You take my hand and you just lead me right out of hereWhy am I sad Today...

Song Discussions is protected by U.S. Patent 9401941. Other patents pending.

Lyrics provided by http://counterlikes.com/