

Power of Christ

21:03

I thought I had the best in life. I had friends and I had things
I thought I was doing ok on my own until I lost it all.
I thought that I had real joy in possessions of this world
Until that day I met you and told me about, the Power of your love
The power of your grace, the power of your nail scarred hands, that changed eternal fate.
The power of your blood, the power of your word, the power of your life in me, makes me free today.
The power of your love, the power of your grace, the power of your nail scarred hands, that change eternal fate.
The power of your blood, the power of your word, the power of your life in me that makes me
free today.
You came to earth so that I can be free.
Every burden I had you lifted off me.
You gave the ultimate sacrifice You shed your blood you gave me life.
Now all this pain my eyes can see my heart has turned and its chases after thee, so I denounce myself and things so I can be like you.
The power of your love, the power of your grace, the power of your nail scarred hands, that
change eternal fate.
The power of your blood, the power of your word, the power of your life in me that makes me
free today.

Lyrics provided by <http://counterlikes.com/>