

Believing (feat. Charles Esten & Kate York)

Nashville Cast

I don't remember, how I got here when my rose colored glasses disappeared sometimes my fingers they can lose touch and start letting go of everything I love When I get the feeling that my prayers have hit the ceiling on those darker days when my faith has lost all meaning you keep me believing My fears are safe here held in your hands when I'm broken, you put me back together again all that I once was, all I could be when I've forgotten, baby you remind me
When I get the feeling that my prayers have hit the ceiling
on those darker days when my faith has lost all meaning
you keep me believing Every ride home starts feelin' blue all you are to me, baby I'll come back for you when I get the feeling that my prayers have hit the ceiling
on those darker days when my faith has lost all meaning
When I get the feeling that my prayers have hit the ceiling
on those darker days when my faith has lost all meaning
you keep me believing

Lyrics provided by <http://counterlikes.com/>