

Remind Me

Conrad Sewell

Please, lay a little longer
The weight is on my shoulder, holding me down
Some days it cant get much darker feeling more than ever when you're not around When I think about love
You are right beside me
Oh I think about us
You will always find me
My heart is lost
I know that you'll guide me
I think about all the little things that still Remind Me. These days Reflections like a stranger
You were so much braver
Braver than me
Oh, save me Save me from my demons, teach me to defeat them and leave me to peace. When I think about love
You are right beside me
Oh I think about us
You will always find me My heart is lost
I know that you'll guide me
I think about all the little things that still Remind Me.
When I'm living life there's nothing left to lose
When I turn my back on everything I do
When I set upon the silence in a room oh oh, Remind me
Remind Me
Remind Me
Remind Me, of yo--u
So I think about love and you're right beside me
I think about us
I know that you'll always find me My heart gets lost
I know that you'll guide me
I think about all the little things that still Remind Me.
I think about all the little things that still Remind Me.
All my life, you'll remind me
