

The Ecstasy of Gold

Ennio Morricone

The hate among men
That comes from the wanting of gold
Destroys everyone young and old When men reach the end of the race
And find that their life is a waste
They find their gold lessened their chances
No new chances
No chance
No second chance
When hate rules men's hearts
A strange kind of justice, prevails
