

I Hold On (feat. Kid Rock)

Slash

I feel your comfort in my dreams
Unprotected silent screams
A light beyond your shadow beams
Still I don't know what it means When seasons change...
Memories remain...I hold on because I won't let go, even though I know there's solitude below
I hold on because I can't let go, I refuse to let the hands of fate unfold
I Hold On And when the darkness turns a day
I won't let you drift away
Conscience fades and some let go
But I hang on cause I know
When seasons change...
Memories remain...I hold on because I won't let go, even though I know there's solitude below
I hold on because I can't let go, I refuse to let the hands of fate unfold
I Hold On I hold on because I won't let go, even though I know there's solitude below
I hold on because I can't let go, I refuse to let the hands of fate unfold
I Hold On I hold on because I won't let go, even though I know there's solitude below
I hold on because I can't let go, I refuse to let the hands of fate unfold
I Hold On No...
No...I refuse to let the hands of fate unfold
I Hold On
I Hold On I refuse to let the hands of fate unfold Oh...
I Hold On
