Won't Go Quietly (Radio Edit)

Example

I needed more than just a kiss goodnight Had to go get something out my system I ignored the warnings, bit the fruit She might have tasted good

But man she was my kryptoniteShoulda known she was trouble from the start

I, knew she'd broken hearts I, thought I'd take that chance

Danced with the she devil in the pale moonlight

Alarm bells rang, but I loved the drama

In a dark place but I loved the karma sutra

Shoulda closed that door

But I kept going back for more

She's electric, she's the current running through my veins

She's a siren, hearing voices that I can't explain

Now I should be thinking it over

Instead I'm calling her over

Now she's here and she won't go quietly

I Should be thinking it over

Instead I'm calling her over

Now she's here but she won't go quietlyI needed more than just a cheap thrill ride See I needed something that ran deep inside

Ignored the warnings, bit the fruit

She might have tasted good

But man she was my kryptoniteShoulda known it wouldn't last for a year I, knew it'd all end it tears I, cracked, she was mind addictive, never felt scripted

Upredicatable, tied up, but no strings attatched

Left scratch marks on my back

Her cold eyes got me excited and I can't hide the truth

She's electric, she's the colour running through my veins

(I just can't kick the habit x2)

She's a siren, hearing voices that I can't explain

(I just can't kick the habit)

Now I should be thinking it over

Instead I'm calling her over

Now she's here and she won't go quietly

I should be thinking it over

Instead I'm calling her over

Now she's here and she won't go quietlyCan't see the end of this or who survives

It's just another case of do or die

Can't see the end of this or who survives

It's just another case, another case, another case another case, another case .She's electric, she's the colour running through my veins (I just can't kick the habit x2)

She's a siren, hearing voices that I can't explain

(I just can't kick the habit)

Now I, should be thinking it over

Instead I'm calling her over

Now she's here and she won't go quietly

I should be thinking it over

Instead I'm calling her over

Now she's here and she won't go quietly Can't see the end of this or who survives

It's just another case of do or die

Can't see the end of this or who survives

It's just another case of do or die

Can't see the end of this or who survives

It's just another case of do or die
