She Has No Time

Keane

You think your days are uneventful And no one ever thinks about you She goes her own way She goes her own way You think your days are ordinary And no one ever thinks about you But we're all the same And she can hardly breathe without youShe says, "She has no time for you now" She says, "She has no time" Well think about the lonely people Or think about the day she found you Or lie to yourself And see it all dissolve around youShe says, "She has no time for you now" She says, "She has no time for you now" She says, "She has no time" Lonely people tumble downwards And my heart opens up to you When she says, "She has no time for you now" She says, "She has no time for you now" She says, "She has no time"

Lyrics provided by http://counterlikes.com/